Some 100 relatives and friends of the captives were waiting at the airport for wireless messages during the day and thought now that all on board were safe.

News of Local Courts

Mrs. Rebecca McGinnis, a widow residing at 50 years old, of 110 West Rio Grande street, would have spent Christmas and 23 additional days in the county jail but for the clemency of Justice Dunnington. On a charge of petty larceny from the home of J.
P. Murphy, a neighbor, she was sentenced yesterday to 30 days in jail, and sentence was suspended. She was accused of taking a stove, clock and safe.

Jacile E. Tate was granted a divorce in the county court yesterday from George W. Tate on the ground of cruelty. The couple were married in Raton, N. M., August 31, 1908.

owing to the fact that there were no specific charges against him, Bert Mc-Guire, whose matrimonial tangles have been in the hands of the police for solution the last week, was released yesterday morning shortly after his arrest. McGuire explained the difficulties in which he found himself with two women, one his wife, Millie, and another, Alice Hartley, to whom he was not married, and chief of Police Burns ordered his release.

COLLEGE FOR GIRLS IN CONSTANTINOPLE

Saint Nihal Singh in Southern Workman.

The deposed sultan, Abdul Hamid, used all the means at his command to keep Turkish girls from attending this college. If a Mahomedan woman was known to have visited the place she was subjected to close espionage. The first Islamic girl to enter the institution was put to much trouble because of her desire to secure a modern education. In another case a pupil of the college, Miss Kazi Hayd, who was the third Mahomedan graduate of the institution and the second Turkish woman in the Ottoman empire to hold the degree of bachelor of arts. She secured her education with the greatest difficulty. Now all this is changed. The parlors of the college are constantly filled with veiled Mahomedan ladies who have come to bring their daughters, or visit them, or to attend lectures. The improvement of Public Instruction of the Turkish government now pays for the education of five Turkish girls in the American college.
These young women were selected by Mme. Halide Salih, a distinguished Turkish graduate of the institution, at the request of the Turkish government. All of them were pupils in the Farul-Mevallim, the highest female school in Constantinople, and were chosen out of a large number of candidates. These girls are to remain in the college until they are graduated, their mothers being compelled to sign papers to which official seals are affixed, promising that their daughters shall, after graduating, teach five years in the Turkish government schools.

RESTORATION OF OLD SOUTH MEETING HOUSE

From the Boston Herald.

Plans are announced for giving back to the Old South Meeting-house as much as possible of its old appearance.
Antiquarians have so long made their dwelling within its ancient walls that the impending changes may be assumed in advance to have been well considered.
The Old State house, Paul Revere's dwelling, and the restoration now in progress at the Old North church have all shown the public what is gained by removal of modern disguise and by replacing of early detail unwisely discarded.

More than most of Boston's venerable architecture, the Old Meetinghouse needs the very treatment proposed. Tall buildings hopelessly overshadow it; competition with them in mass and height is out of question.
Only in greater interest, in the picturesqueness that draws and satisfies the eye, can the older building still worthily outclass the commercial structures nearby. To clean off the grimy paint and let the old bricks show their color and the chequered mortar lines of their back those exterior details that nearly two centuries have gnawed away.
This will not only restore the building in itself, it will give it a new and firmer stand among its big and garish-ly belittled neighbors.

No restoration should be allowed to disturb in any way two brief inscriptions well cut in the masonry courses underneath the brick walls. One of them, being in plain sight on the Washington-Milk street corner, is often read: "N E March 31, 1729." The letters are explained as abbreviations of newly erected. If this conjecture is correct, the forefathers counted on a posterity of clever guessers. The other, on the corner diagonally opposite,
reached through an arch, is unnoted:
"L R 1729." Perhaps the painstaking restorers will find a key to its shapely initials.

THE YOUNGEST OF EUROPE'S GREAT CITIES

Sydney Adamson in Harper's Magazine.
Odessa is one of the youngest of European cities. Only 120 years ago, Hidji Bey, a little Turkish settlement, nestled on the cliffs that overlook the harbor and dozed under the sultan across the Black sea. The long arm of Russia reached out and took it, and planted there, upon the plateau overlooking the bay, the beginnings of a commercial city that now holds between 500,000 and 600,000. The revolution in France soon sent refugees scattering over the world, and noble names came to Odessa, and one may read them still on street corners—Darbas, Richelieu and Langeron. Later Englishmen came and brought ships to carry away Russian grain, and then the Crimean war swept across this friendly relation. But the English stayed when the war had passed, and the Germans came, and afterward Americans, with reapers and plows and steam traction engines, to help the Russians to grow more richly the grain that the English and the German ships carried out to the world. Last of all came the Jews, and they cut the business so fine that the English starved and gave up; the business of exporting today is mainly in the hands of the Jews. A few hardy Germans and English are left.

CRIPPLE CREEK MINERS CELEBRATE ON XMAS DAY

CRIPPLE CREEK, Dec. 25.—Few, if any, wheels turned in the Cripple Creek mining district on Christmas day. It has been handed down from man to man that all hands must celebrate, and celebrate they did; in fact, among the more prosperous of the smaller leasers there will be little work done until after the first of the year. Several firemen were kept busy feeding the fires in the big furnaces, and the watchmen were asked to labor in the same way. The men were given a day off, as a rule. The bulk of the shipping for the month has been done and settlements have been made. The sampler offices in both Cripple Creek and Victor have been busy handing out checks and making settlements for the ore already shipped. It is expected that the samplers of the district will be working double shifts until New Year's, and it is believed that the double shift will be continued for a time.

BOYS ARE GUESTS OF NAVY ENSIGN

Attend Banquet Aboard Ship and Leave With Pockets Filled With Goodies

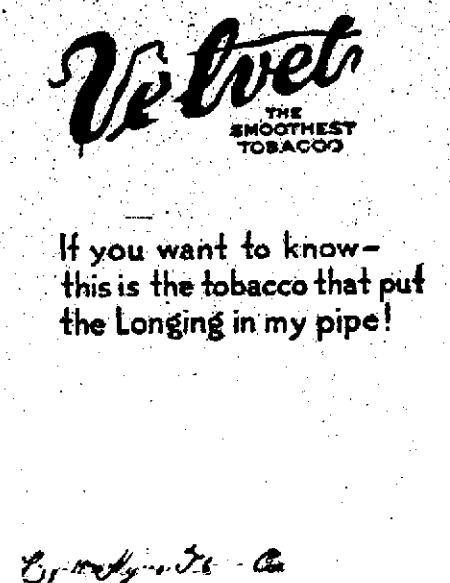

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 25.—Ten lads from the Boys and Girls Aid society dined tonight in the ward room of the gunboat Annapolis, afterward they owned the vessel, and when the Annapolis, launch, finally conveyed them to shore they had their pockets filled with goodies of portable kind. Ensign H. B. Gilbert was host of the occasion. The Annapolis only recently returned from a long stay in Nicaragua waters, and every other officer and most of the enlisted men were ashore for Christmas day. Ensign Gilbert's wife is on the way from Nicaragua, and he felt loneliness. Aboard ship, cooks were busy preparing the officers' Christmas dinner, and Ensign Gilbert determined to have company, so he sent a messenger to the San Francisco Call and requested that that publication furnish him with 10 juvenile guests. The Annapolis launch awaited the 10 boys when they arrived on the water front, and with all courtesy they were escorted aboard the gunboat. The silver service of the officers' mess adorned the table and Filipino waiters served the young guests. The only thing omitted from the regular course was wine and cigars. In their stead an enormous silver platter heaped with ice cream was brought in and each lad served himself. Afterward the visitors were given the "freedom of the ship." After the invitation had been issued Ensign Gilbert received an invitation to "come ashore" and join some of his brother officers, but he replied that he expected guests, and declined the invitation.

TO ASK STATE AID MOUNTAIN PARKS

DENVER, Dec. 25.—A bill will be introduced in the next legislature asking for an appropriation for the construction of part of the mountain parks project which was voted upon by the people of Denver last May. It has been decided that the one-half mill levy on the city property for the construction and purchase of the parks will not be enough to carry out the plans, so the state will be asked to lend its assistance. This decision was reached at a meeting of the joint mountain park committee of the chamber of commerce and real estate exchange, of which Kingsley A. Pence is chairman. The only funds which are thought available for the purpose are a part of the "park barrel" fund, which is also being sought after by the good roads enthusiasts of the state. The city tax will bring in about $67,000 per year under the present valuation, but the park committee hopes that this amount will be raised to about $400,000 during the five years that the tax will be in effect. Governor-elect Ammons met with the committee and advanced the idea of making the parks a game preserve, in which will be kept herds of elk and deer and other wild game that is native to this and adjoining states.

CONDITION OF VICEROY IS SOMEWHAT IMPROVED

DELHI, Dec. 25.—The official bulletin issued this evening concerning the condition of the viceroy, Baron Hardinge, who was severely injured by a bomb thrown by an Indian fanatic Monday, describes his progress as satisfactory, but adds that the physicians believe he will not be able to resume his duties within two or three weeks.

DEMOCRATS CAUCUS ASSIGNMENTS JAN. 7

Number of Changes to Take Place as the Result of Vacancies

WASHINGTON, Dec. 25.—Committee assignments in the house of representatives, made necessary by changes in membership, will be considered at a Democratic caucus, which has been called for January 7 and announced today. The chairmanship of the committee on foreign affairs, made vacant by the election of Representative Sulzer as governor of New York, is one of the important places to be filled, and it is probable the place will go to Representative Flood of Virginia, who is at present acting chairman of the committee. To succeed former Representative Hughes of New Jersey on the ways and means committee, Representative Ansberry of Ohio is said to have been selected. Of Republican assignments, Representative Green of Vermont is slated for the claims and pensions committee; Merritt of New York, immigration, naturalization and education; and Representative Scott of Iowa for the committee on commerce, weights and measures and reforms in the civil service. Besides these the caucus will award the chairmanship of the committee on public lands, contest for which is between Ferris of Oklahoma and Graham of Illinois. The outgoing chairman is Governor-elect Robinson of Arkansas, whose inauguration, like that of Governor-elect Cox of Ohio, a member of the appropriations committee, will not take place until later in the month. There are a number of candidates for the Cox vacancy on the appropriations committee.

PAGET PRESENTS SEIZED FOR DUTY

NEW YORK, Dec. 25.—Mrs. Archer Huntington of 1083 Fifth avenue, Mrs. Harry O. Judge, Robert H. Cary of the steel trust, Miss Campbell, 2 East Fifty-seventh street, Arthur and Reggie Paget, the twin sons of General Sir Arthur and Lady Paget, now in California, and several other prominent New York and Newport society women did not receive today the costly and beautiful Christmas gifts that Lady Paget sent them from England ten days ago. At the present time these gifts, carefully wrapped in tissue paper, tagged with the name and address of the prospective recipient, are under lock and key in the government safe room in the public stores on Christopher street. There they will remain as seized goods until the collector of the port has decided officially whether they shall be sold by public auction, or whether they will be returned to the sender in exchange for their foreign value, plus the duty in this country. Although the government appraisers have not yet completed the valuation of the gifts it is said that the public stores that they probably would be appraised at more than $200,000. On the arrival last Saturday of the Lusitania, Harry C. Roberts, an Englishman, declared that he was a non-resident of this country and had nothing dutiable in his baggage, which consisted of one large trunk and three handbags. He was asked definitely as to the custom at this time of the year, if he had gifts for any of his friends, relatives or acquaintances or if he was bringing gifts over for someone else. Roberts replied in the negative. The inspector who examined his baggage was not convinced that Roberts was adhering strictly to the truth. He examined one handbag and found nothing. The next bag disclosed a silk kimono and a bill case. The inspector concluded that the kimono was not worn by Roberts and put the garment to one side. Next came a large suit case and in the folds of a shirt was found a few-elled paper cutter with a card attached, indicating that it was a gift from Lady Paget to Mrs. E. B. Cary and was to be sent to the Waldorf-Astoria. In another shirt were two tweeled gold cigarette cases, labeled "Arthur Paget" and "Reggie Paget," the addresses of the twins being given as San Francisco. A sealed jewel box found in the leg of a pair of trousers in the very bottom of the trunk contained a heavy gold chain bracelet addressed to Miss Campbell, 2 East Fifty-seventh street, this city. Near the box were hidden a gold fillings box and an agent ash tray, tagged "Paget."

In the trunk the inspector found a well-worn, suspicious looking coat, and examination of the pockets revealed another sealed box and an agent's pocket case both addressed to Mrs. Archer Huntington of this city.

ARREST GREEKS FOR MURDER OF MARSHAL

Night Watchman of Midvale, Utah, Killed First Night of Service

SALT LAKE CITY, Dec. 25.—Aided by a heavy snow that fell in the early hours this morning, four Greeks were arrested by the sheriff's posse today on suspicion of being the murderers of William Nelson, the young night watchman who was killed at Midvale about 3 o'clock this morning after he had ordered four foreigners to cease firing their revolvers. A sheriff's posse left here soon after the murder was committed and were enabled to pick up the trail of the murderers in the newly fallen snow. Following the traces which took a detour to the edge of the village and then back again, the posse arrived at the home of a Greek who was found in bed with a revolver under his pillow. A house-to-house search then was made about the town and by comparing tracks leading to another Greek's home, with those leading away from the scene of the murder, three other foreigners were arrested. Nelson, who was serving his first night as marshal, was shot down from behind without the slightest warning. He had just cautioned four Greeks, who came from a bakery, to cease firing their guns, and was talking with the men when one of them slipped behind him and fired, the bullet entering the young officer's skull, killing him instantly. Nelson was killed within a few feet of the spot where Night Marshal Colclough met his death at the hands of Giovanni and his associates. It was the chance husband of Miss Agnes Colclough, a daughter of his predecessor.

Though 125 Miles From Own Homes, "Pilgrims" Happy

HUDSON, N. Y., Dec. 25.—One hundred and twenty-five miles from their home firesides, the suffragette army, which is on its way from New York to Albany carrying a message to Governor-elect Sulzer, spent Christmas in this city. In the afternoon the "army" gathered in the parlors of their hotel, where a Christmas tree glowed with candles and was laden with gifts. The fair "general," Rosalie G. Jones, presented the gifts to her "troops" as rewards for "bravery in the performance of duty." The "troops" in turn presented their commander with a copy of "Pilgrims' Progress." Inscribed within the cover was the following: "That it came to pass when the people heard the sounds of trumpets and the people shouted, the walls of Albany fell flat." "That they will," announced Miss Jones, as she read the inscription, "and we will march around them 10 times, once for each state that has granted suffrage to women." In costumes representing women suffragists of the seventeenth century, the marchers tonight attended a church ball. There being but 32 miles of the journey left, and until December 31 in which to complete it, tomorrow's march will be reduced to five miles, ending at Stockport. The snow was thawing tonight and the prospects were for a slushy tramp.

Romance Result of Mife.
POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Dec. 25.—A romance resulted from the "pilgrims' hike to Albany." Tonight the engagement was announced of Miss Gladys Courson, one of "General" Jones' army, to Griffith Bonner, a Poughkeepsie newspaper man and a grandson of the late Robert Bonner. The young people first met when the suffragists left Poughkeepsie, and the announcement of their engagement was made in Hudson, tonight. Miss Courson is the daughter of Alfred Courson, president of the American Mineral Wood company.

COLORADO PIONEER IS DEAD IN DENVER

Raleigh W. Chinn, One of Early Settlers, Passes Away at Age 85

DENVER, Dec. 25.—Among the pioneers and foundation builders of Colorado, Raleigh Washington Chinn of 4211 Osceola street, passed out of life at 11:30 last night, due to pneumonia. Chinn was born in England, and had been in the state since last Saturday, when he was stricken with the illness. It was a far back as 1860 that Raleigh Chinn, then a young man of 23, crossed the plains and the Rockies and the Sierras and went to California, where he "gold-fetched" first looking out on the Pacific alone. He later returned to his home in Massachusetts, and was a resident of that state until 1870, when he returned to the land of Pikes Peak. He returned to Iowa, and in 1882 removed his family west, again driving a freight team across the plains to Denver and on to Breckenridge, Colo., where he located and engaged in mining. At the same time maintaining his connection with the freighting business. It is stated by Mr. Chinn that he crossed the plains more than any body of his age, and knew the route from the Missouri river to Denver better than did any other of the pioneers, and the kindly, brave and hardy old gentleman delighted to tell of his adventures, some thrilling, many quaintly humorous, and his reminiscences were highly entertaining to all who found him. Mr. Chinn was born in Indianapolis, August 10, 1827, and, therefore, past 85 at the time of his death. In 1839 he removed with his parents to Muscatine, Ia., and it was at this place that, on March 11, 1857, he was married to Miss Teresa Ayers, the faithful helpmate who survives him. Having resided in Breckenridge from 1882 to 1885, Mr. Chinn removed with his family to Golden, Colo., in 1885 he removed to Clear Creek county, where he lived until he removed to Denver, where he has since resided. Mr. Chinn was one of the oldest Masons in the state, and was a member of Royal Arch chapter No. 2 of Golden. He is survived by his widow and five children, the latter being Richard J. Chinn of Seattle, Wash.; Mrs. J. L. Greer of Rio Grande, N. M.; Mrs. J. R. Stanhope, Dr. Howard T. Chinn and Hubert H. Chinn, all of Denver. The funeral will be held tomorrow (Friday) afternoon, at 2 o'clock, from the residence, the Rev. William Callaway, pastor of the Beth-Eden Baptist church, officiating. The burial will be at Mount Hope, where Mr. Chinn spent 24 years of his life.

Chicago Fails to Remember Captain of Illyat Ship

CHICAGO, Dec. 25.—In the gladness of Christmas time, Chicagoans forget the family of Captain Herman Schuenemann, who, with his crew of 20 men, went to the bottom of Lake Michigan a few weeks ago while returning from northern Michigan with a cargo of furs for the Yuletide. When it was established that the captain and his crew had perished, the wife and daughters of the master of the Christmas ship attempted to fortify themselves against want by bringing a new cargo of furs to the city. They were set up for sale down on the river bank and every day the widow and her offspring worked hard making wreaths and arranging other stock. Many old customers came and bought, but not nearly all of the "treasures" remembered to buy. And only a few new customers came. So tonight when darkness fell and the last hope of another sale had passed the family found itself still in possession of a considerable amount of unsold stock. But the widow was lucky. "I don't want charity," she said. "I'll fight it out. Next year we'll sell trees again, and maybe business will be better." Prisoners at the county jail were disappointed, too, when the sinners from Chicago grand opera company failed to give a concert which had been planned. Judge Davis, however, went into the rooming house district of North Clark street and managed to gather several acrobats, monologists and other performers who have been showing at nickel theaters, and other small houses for a performance. A dinner followed. Eighteen hundred men and boys in the house of correction sang "The Star Spangled Banner" while a band played the "tune. These prisoners also were given a feast.

"NEARER MY GOD TO THEE" QUELLS STEAMSHIP PANIC

MARSEILLES, Dec. 25.—The steamship Djenné arrived here today with 145 passengers of the French steamship Salazie, which was driven on a reef about 40 miles off the southeast coast of the island of Madagascar, in the Indian ocean, during a cyclone, November 29. The Salazie passengers gave a thrilling account of the wreck. The passengers were in a state of panic. A group of English passengers gathered in the saloon and sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee." Six of the eight lifeboats were washed away, and the second officer perished while trying to rig a floating anchor. When the storm subsided, the passengers were landed on a desert island in the Indian ocean. Two boats (torpedoes) were erected and one of the boats proceeded to Madagascar, bringing back aid. The passengers were taken off.

SUSPECTS HELD MAY BE ALTON BANDITS

Trainmen Identify Two Men. Got Glimpse of Features Night of Holdup

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Dec. 25.—Detectives claim tonight that they have identified Jack Hartnett, Chicago, and Elmer Vance, Springfield, as the men who held up the Alton "thunderer" at this junction, that the movements of the men before and after the robbery have been followed in detail and that it will be impossible for them to escape. The detectives have been searching the suspects at the police station, where a dramatic situation was presented today when the prisoners were confronted by Engineer McLaughlin, Philman Sullivan and James Mesenger Ayers, who were certain the men held are the bandits. The men being masked made identification difficult, but the express messenger said he caught a glimpse of their features when the wind blew back the handkerchiefs which the robbers wore over their faces. Charged With Burglary. After the awaiting warrants for burglary were sworn out against the pair, this charge was sufficient to hold them until the case was established. By the stories of the express messenger and trainmen, the authorities were convinced that only two men took part in the actual work of holding up the train. They are not sure, however, that there was not another at some distance from the scene. Another thing ascertained from the stories of the trainmen was that the two men whom some of the officers first on the scene saw retreating across a stubble field a few hundred yards from the express car were the same two men who had attempted the robbery.

65,400,000 ACRES OF LAND IN STATE

DENVER, Dec. 25.—The state land board has figured in out that there are 65,400,000 acres of land in Colorado, divided as follows: Government land, 36,000,000. Individual lands, 23,000,000 acres. State land, 1,400,000. Of the government land, 16,000,000 acres comprise forest reserves; 18,000,000 acres are mountainous lands that never have been surveyed, and 2,000,000 acres are preemption lands. The individual lands are those owned and upon which taxes are paid. The small acreage owned by the state doubtless will prove a surprise to many people. The state land board is pursuing the policy of leasing its lands to insure a greater income to the state. Efforts are to be made to have the government cede several millions of acres to the state, and if this is done the state will be in a position to begin again the general sale of lands. However, the proceeds from the lands ceded by the government to the state will be used only in developing of public state parks and for building roads.

OROZCO IS RELEASED TO BE REARRESTED

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Dec. 25.—Colonel Pascual Orozco, father of General Pascual Orozco, Jr., leader of the Mexican revolution in the north, was released from the military prison at Fort Sam Houston today under bonds of $2,500 on the charge of violating neutrality laws. He immediately was requested by the civil authorities on a warrant in which the Mexican government charges him with larceny and robbery, alleged to have been committed in the state of Chihuahua. Orozco was placed in the county jail, where he will, under the law, remain not more than 40 days, in which time the Mexican government must make a showing of its evidence against the prisoner. Orozco, under an indictment found by the federal grand jury, was placed in the military prison a month ago.

EL PASO, Tex., Dec. 25.—An official federal report, made public tonight, says 250 rebels under General Estelaz were defeated Monday by General Blanco and 450 federal soldiers at Janos, in the Chihuahua district. Twelve rebels were killed, says the government report, which fails to state the federal loss.

Dentist Caused J. P. Morgan to Give $10,000 Check to Poor Washer Woman

J. PIERPONT MORGAN, WHO HELPED WASHERWOMAN AND 13 CHILDREN ENJOY CHRISTMAS.

NEW YORK, Dec. 25.—A story which men of the financial district are telling at their Christmas dinners today had J. P. Morgan, a dentist and a washer woman as its principals. Mr. Morgan was in a dentist's chair in a related case when he was telling the washer woman was the worst instance of destitution he ever knew. "Her husband died and left her 13 children, only five of them being large enough to work," he said, and while keeping on with his dental work he continued the hard luck narrative in detail.

A WOMAN'S PROBLEM

In the looking-glass a woman often sees wrinkles, hollow circles under eyes, "crow's feet," all because she did not turn to the right remedy when worn down with those troubles which are distinctly feminine. Backache, headache, pains, jaundice, nervousness and drains upon vitality—bring untold suffering to womanhood and the face shows it. Policeman Given $700. SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 25.—Seven hundred dollars in money and a check for $300 were thrust into the hands of Patrolman Thomas O'Connell, by a stranger, who would not reveal his name.

"I want you to take this and have the police department distribute it where it will do the most good," he said. The stranger directed that the $300 be delivered to Rev. Fr. Casey of St. Peter's parish.

O'Connell turned the money over to Chief White, and in the latter's instructions, spent Christmas day in the chief's automobile, distributing the money in the poorer quarters of the city.

Both Husbands Give Presents. MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 25.—Charles D. Brown, who arrested George Riley, now serving a five-year sentence, received a handsome present made one from the convict, Luigi M. Pierce, in jail here on a charge of bigamy, was the recipient of gifts from both of her husbands.

Riot Over Old Glory.

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 25.—A small riot occurred here today when some Austrians, holding a Christmas fête, decided not to use a United States flag behind which they had been marching in a short parade. They tore the flag to pieces. Some Americans, resenting their treatment, and, fewer in number, would have suffered defeat had it not been for the police.

Tragedy Follows Celebration. CHICAGO, Dec. 25.—A Christmas family gathering at the home of Vincent Scott, terminated in a tragedy, the shooting and probably fatal wounding of Mrs. Dorothea Scott, by her husband and brother-in-law.

Factory "Profane Box."

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Dec. 25.—For every swear word this year by members of the clerical force in an automobile tire factory at Milltown, a fine of one cent has to be dropped in the "profane box" for the Salvation Army.

The box, opened today, contained $4.95. Somebody then said "damn" twice to make the sum an even $5. There are 100 clerks.

President Taft in Panama.

PANAMA, Dec. 25.—President Taft spent the forenoon of his Christmas inspecting the Central and Pacific divisions of the Panama canal, the Culebra cut and the fortifications at the Pacific end of the canal. Percival H. Dodge, the American minister to Panama, entertained the president at dinner and tonight Mr. Taft will attend a ball given by President Ferras.

Strike Follows Christmas.

NEW YORK, Dec. 25.—Christmas is to be followed by one of the largest strikes New York has seen for many years. If the vote of the garment workers to quit is carried out by an executive strike order, which it was said today, might be expected as early as tomorrow.

The vote on the strike, taken Monday, was given on official as 35,785 to 2,222, in favor of the strike. The figures represent practically the entire membership of the organization, but leaders say they have assurances that 150,000 employees of clothing manufacturers will quit work when the strike is called.

Celebrates With Broken Back.

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., Dec. 25.—Waldor Miller, who, contrary to the prediction of physicians, has lived for nearly 18 months with a broken back, celebrated Christmas today by going out for his first walk in the streets since July 3, 1911, when he received the injury while diving. His case had received too much publicity that victims of similar accidents in all parts of the country sent him letters in which he is replying today with Christmas greetings. A neighbor prepared an unusual present for him in the shape of a silk quilt with the names of 400 young women embroidered on it. Each girl embroidered her own name and paid 10 cents for the privilege, the money being given to Miller with the quilt.

Grim Tragedy Recalled.

CHICAGO, Dec. 25.—Crepe on a Christmas tree was the unusual sight gazed upon yesterday by thousands of persons who rode on street cars in North Clark street.

The tree stood on the prow of a boat at the Clark street bridge, where, for the Captain Herman Schuenemann of the ill-fated Rouse Simmons sold Christmas trees.

The crepe recalled to the minds of those who saw it the death of Captain Schuenemann and his crew of 18 a few weeks ago in Lake Michigan when the Simmons was lost. His daughter, Thelma, of which he was in charge, sank.

Chicago Has "Green" Christmas.

CHICAGO, Dec. 25.—Subsiding and a balmy southwest wind made Chicago's Christmas day the "greenest" in a score of years. The day resembled more one of October's than of December's. There was not a trace of snow in the city or in the neighboring country and similar conditions were reported from most points in the north central states.

Record 'Phone Calls.

NEW YORK, Dec. 25.—One million more telephone calls than the normal day's business, which is about 2,000,000 calls, was the result of the day before Christmas business and the storm which struck the city yesterday, according to a representative of the New York Telephone company. With street traffic blocked or difficult, everyone seemed to turn to the wire as the best way out. The increase in calls is unprecedented in the city's history.

Governor Wilson Makes Joy Happy.

EAST ORANGE, N. J., Dec. 25.—When Charles Conroy, 8 years old, got up this morning he found that the letter he sent to Santa Claus, state house, Trenton, had been answered by Gov. Wilson. Charlie asked for a sweater, a pair of gloves, a necktie, a cap, two books, a train of cars, a box of blocks and some candy and fruit. President-elect Wilson was so impressed that he

All cases of infectious and contagious diseases are reported to the authorities, and hospitals for the care of these patients have been opened. The water supply and municipal sewerage systems are being reorganized, and an extensive medical service has been arranged.

GOVERNMENT WANTS TO KNOW IF LEASED CO. DOING BUSINESS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 25.—A corporation tax issue, involving the right of the federal government to collect hundreds of thousands of dollars in taxes from thousands of corporations which have leased their property, will be argued in the United States supreme court, January 6.

The case, according to an announcement by Solicitor General Quinn Tamm, is that of the Minehill and Schuylkill Haven Railroad company, which sued the collector of internal revenue at Philadelphia for $5,000 on a writ of habeas corpus under the corporation tax law.

This $4,000,000 corporation, by the authority of the legislature of Pennsylvania, leased its property to the Pennsylvania and Reading Railway company at an annual rental of $252,000.

The supreme court has held that the corporation tax is a tax upon the "doing" of corporate business and the point involved in this case is whether corporations which have thus leased their property really are "doing business."

Enjoy an Advantage.

In a brief filed with the supreme court, Solicitor General Quinn Tamm says: "That the shareholders of the Minehill company are enjoying an advantage thereby that constitutes a 'doing of business' within the meaning of the statute, is found when we consider that, although the Reading company pays all the taxes on the property leased and on the business done over the road, yet the Minehill company is paying about $25,000 to $30,000 yearly in taxes for the privilege of maintaining its corporate existence."

This is entirely a practical question, and you must recognize things as they are. If a lot of shareholders are willing to pay $25,000 a year in taxes, rather than surrender the corporate franchise, we may well conclude that the corporation must be 'doing something' or else they would quickly dissolve and save that large sum in taxes."

Company Denies Charges.

Counsel for the railroad company deny the contentions of the government and maintain that the company is substantially a local enterprise, deriving income from property, and not from business, and the corporation not taxes only the latter. To apply the act to the corporation, it is argued, would be to make the tax "an income tax—a direct tax," which must be apportioned among the states according to representation.

"Congress knows," continues the brief of the company, "that it could not impose a tax upon property, and that the tax act would be sustained as constitutional if at all, only if it imposed an excise tax with respect to the doing of business."

GERMAN TRUST CHRISTMAS DECORATORS DISCOVERED

WASHINGTON, Dec. 25.—Christmas trees in hundreds of thousands of homes throughout the United States are weighed down today by the products of a German trust, for American Consul General Frank Dillingham has just reported to the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce the existence of a combination among the manufacturers of Christmas tree decorations in his district. Most of the ornaments used in Christmas trees for Christmas tree embellishments are made there.

"About 75 per cent of the manufacturers," said Consul Dillingham in his report, "are members of a syndicate which was formed to prevent competition among themselves and to establish standard prices for selling their manufactures. The syndicate agrees on one price for each style of ornament, which its members adhere to. In all sales, they use a German use or for export to America or other foreign lands."

U. OF C. CALENDAR FOR NEXT YEAR IS REAL WORK OF ART

DENVER, Dec. 25.—A handsome work of art has just been issued by the University of Colorado in the form of a calendar for 1913. Each page, which contains a calendar for 12 months, is mounted with two bromide prints of scenes of the college and its buildings. The cover is very artistically designed and executed in the college colors. The whole is neatly bound together and is a souvenir which will not be forgotten for a long time.

ST. FRANCIS HOSPITAL
HOLDS BIG CELEBRATION

In celebration of Christmas, midnight mass was said in the chapel at St. Francis hospital at 12 o'clock Tuesday night. Benediction was said at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the chapel. The chapel was tastefully decorated for the services and for the festival. The presents which had come for the patients were distributed yesterday morning, and in the evening a celebration was held in the hallway on the main floor. A Christmas tree had been set up and a Santa Claus appeared and distributed presents from it to the patients. The celebration around the tree was followed by an informal musical program. About 100 of the patients took part in these exercises.

The water courses of the state of Washington have been estimated to be capable of supplying 3,000,000 horse power.

Try This Home-Made Cough Remedy

Costs Little, But Does the Work Quickly, or Money Refunded

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 2 1/2 pints of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents' worth) in a pint bottle, then add the Sugar Syrup. Take a teaspoonful every two or three hours.

You will find that this simple remedy takes hold of a cough more quickly than anything else you ever used. It cures a dry, tickling cough, whooping cough, croup, chest pains, bronchitis and other throat troubles. It stimulates the appetite and is slightly laxative, which helps and a cough.

This recipe makes more and better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. It keeps perfectly and tastes pleasantly.

Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norway white pine extract, and is rich in quinine and all the natural pine elements which are so healing to the membranes. Other preparations will not work in this formula.
This plan of making cough syrup with Pinex and sugar syrup (or strained honey) has proven so popular throughout the United States and Canada that it is often imitated. But the old, successful formula has never been equalled.
A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Young Couple Wed in Hospital Rather Than Postpone Ceremony

GEORGE KEBBLE AND BRIDE, WHO WAS MISS MAY STONE

Christmas bells mingled with wedding bells yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Miss Bethel, daughter of George Kettle, of Colorado Springs, was married to Miss May Stone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Stone, of 22 East Williams street. The ceremony was performed in the hospital at the home of the bride, who was lying in bed. The bride and groom were both in bed during the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. S. L. Thompson, pastor of the First Methodist church.

QUICK DELIVERY BOY IS HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Silvester Bevil, aged 17 years, a messenger for the Quick Delivery, was run down by an automobile belonging to John A. Hull of 14 East Monument street at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon in the 400 block on North Nevada avenue. The wheels of the automobile passed over the boy's legs, but no bones were broken, and it is believed that his injuries are confined to severe bruises. The bicycle he was riding was completely wrecked and several packages he had with him were badly damaged.

Bevil was riding north on Nevada avenue, carrying two ice cream trays, and several packages. A sharp turn was made in his turn, and he had his eye pulled over his coat to protect them. He turned to one of the houses in the 400 block to deliver a package, when the automobile, which was following closely behind him, struck him and knocked him to the ground.

The wheels of the automobile passed over Bevil's legs, and he was badly bruised. He was able to get to his feet and to climb into the automobile. Hull took the wheel and packages back to the office of the Quick Delivery, and then took Bevil to the hospital for attention. The boy was taken later to his home, 219 South Comstock street, where he lives with his mother.

Bevil was ill for some time after the accident, but was resting easy last night. Hull was asked to report to Chief of Police Burns at 2 o'clock this morning to explain how the accident occurred.

Springs Men May Build Sanatorium in Pueblo

According to word received from Pueblo, Joseph Harrison, Chester Alan Arthur and several other Colorado Springs capitalists are interested in the construction of a sanatorium to be built near the Mineral palace, Pueblo. An option, taken last July for six months, was secured on the "dark mineral spring" in that city, and if the deal is going through the option will have to be renewed after the first of the year. The details of the proposition are in the hands of Mr. Harrison, who states that nothing definite has been done in the matter.

BANK EMPLOYEES PROFIT ON PERCENTAGE BASIS

Checks for five per cent of their yearly salaries were found among their Christmas gifts yesterday morning by employees of the First National bank, as the result of a plan that the officers have been operating for the last Christmas year. Every Christmas a dividend of two per cent of the net earnings of the institution is put into a Christmas fund and from this the employees receive gifts of five per cent of their salaries.

A sick benefit fund is also created at this time with the remainder of the Christmas dividend. This fund, which has been growing annually, is used to defray expenses of employees when sick or disabled for any length of time.

TRAINING SCHOOL GIVES LAMP TO MISS GARDNER

Miss Gardner, supervisor of nurses at Bethel hospital, was given an electric reading lamp last night by the training school of the hospital at a Christmas entertainment given at the hospital. The entertainment was given for the nurses, and was under the auspices of the following representatives of the local board of the hospital: Mrs. Marsh, Mrs. Flora and Mrs. Crowley. A number of guests besides the nurses were present. Miss Evelyn Lewis gave a reading and Miss Eleanor Thomas and Walter Thomas sang. There was a Christmas tree and a grab bag, and presents were distributed to the nurses and officers of the hospital.

The principal poison in absinthe is a vegetable substance known as thymol. It is found in wormwood, which is used in making absinthe. France is the largest consumer of absinthe, taking more than all the rest of Europe. The consumption has been steadily increasing, so that in 1911 over 1,000,000 bottles of absinthe were used in France.

CURTIS NAMED ON NEW GOOD ROADS COMMITTEE

Leonard E. Curtis, president of the Lincoln Highway association and an active good roads booster, has been named a member of the special committee of the Colorado road bonds association by President R. H. Higgins of that body. The purpose of this committee is to prepare measures which will be submitted to the third annual conference of that body for approval before they are taken to the floor of the legislature.

One of the measures to be considered by the committee will be the proposed law turning over the internal improvement funds to the highway commission. Last year the commission appropriated about $500,000 to the various counties, and because of this appropriation much work was done by the counties for which they were not paid out of state funds, because the act under which the appropriation was made was declared illegal. It is believed by many that one of the first measures to be presented to the legislature should be one to make valid these appropriations of the highway commission.

CHRISTMAS DINNER FOR CONVICT ROAD WORKERS

The convict road camp, which has been at the junction of the Lincoln Highway and the El Paso county line, has been moved to a point 13 miles west of Pueblo. Work at the new camp will be begun today. The convict commissioners of Pueblo, by a vote, moved to the Lincoln Highway camp yesterday as a reward for the good work they have done and sent a wagon load of foodstuffs to the camp. The dinner included turkey, plum pudding, fruit, pumpkin and other pies and other. The gang, which now numbers 25 men, is now the best in the state. Most of the men have been on the work more than a year and some of them have been at it three years. Only two men have escaped from the gang.

The superintendent of roads of Pueblo, County John S. Brown, says that the completed road between Pueblo and the El Paso county line is the best along the Santa Fe Trail. It will take three months to complete the Rainbow route to the line between Pueblo and Fremont counties.

Dr. Wm. Sadler, author of "The Cough and Croup Cures," says that "Cough and Croup Cures" is a reliable household medicine for coughs and colds, equally effective for children and for grown persons. Take it when you feel a cold coming on. It will avert danger of serious results and cure quickly. Mrs. N. C. Young, Peas, Ga., says: "Foley's Kidney and Liver Compound completely cured my throat and cured my cold." The Robinson Drug Co., (Adv.)

SAND FOR GLASS-MAKING

The preparation of glass sand has become a highly specialized business, and in the middle Mississippi valley is one of the most thoroughly equipped plants are at present employed. The materials used for glass sand in the central United States, geological survey, are mainly bedded sandstones, and a complete process of preparation includes quarrying, breaking, crushing, and grinding into component grains, screening to various sizes. Some beds of sandstone are so friable and pure that only blinding dust and slight crushing are necessary before the sand is dried and screened. Many plants, however, wash their sand in the course of preparation, particularly those in Illinois, where hydraulic sand is employed to obtain sand from the quarries. Washing doubtless removes, even from high-grade sand, considerable silica, in such a fine state as to be detrimental, as well as an appreciable quantity of clay and other undesirable impurities.

It is mistaken economy to neglect this important phase of treatment, as the expense of installing a sand washing plant is offset by the fact that the sand is of a higher quality and is more impure than sand which has not been washed.

THE WILSON FAMILY AT THE WHITE HOUSE

Isabel Joyce in National Monthly. When the spirited horses which will draw the presidential carriage on March 4, are guided into the graceful and winding roadway leading to the White house, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson will be brought face to face with the significance of her exalted position as the first lady of the land and how she will share equally with her husband in the responsibilities which will on that day become theirs.

This feature of the presidential procession is as old as the procession itself, yet with each recurring inauguration of a new executive the thrill is repeated in the hearts of the thousands of people who congregate near the White house and, if the truth were known, the interest of the public at that moment is more centered in the new president's wife than in the head of the nation. For months the reading public has seen his pictures in the newspapers and many of them have heard and seen the man, but it is the woman who for the next four years, at least, will preside over the White house, in whom a healthy majority of public interest is centered. On that afternoon.

It is a wonderful drive from the Capitol to the White house for the lucky woman who takes the second seat in the first carriage made specially by the withdrawal of the outgoing president. It means to some the consummation of a life wish, almost too glorious to be true, while to others it is but another and almost unbelievable surprise which has come to her through the absolute worth of her husband to the men who believe in honesty, hard work and conscientious living. The new president, or rather the status of important person in life as any ambitious boy in his school days could ever hope to be. But his wife stands out to the many millions of women, those crying for votes and those who do not want them—as a figure conspicuous among the few of their own kind who had the good luck to pick a future president for a husband.

A MEXICAN "ROSE"IA STONE

From the New York Tribune.

Through the medium of a humble, flat stone, carved on one side in mysterious, unknown tongue and equally carved on the other in partly known Nahuatl language, Prof. Rogers Means has unlocked in Mexico a volume of history which had been thought to be forever sealed when the Catholic priests of Cortez's expedition burned the 20,000-volume library of the Aztecs at Tlaxcala.

This key has been found in the ruin of Xochitlaco. Xochitlaco was a city 15 miles in one dimension by 10 in another, a closely built town of stone and cement, its center a magnificent temple, crowning a lofty artificial mound or pyramid, whose truncated top has an area of 12,000 square yards. In the center of this plaza rises the ruined temple. It stands true to the compass and the height of the base walls alone is 12 feet. The temple top, which is 12 feet high, is 20 feet thick and was constructed and unlike the model seen from Tlaxcala, which the Greeks copied at Athens.

Not many years ago, says a writer in Office Appliances, "American business propositions in the West Indies were considered more as objects of distrust and ridicule than as means of commercial success. Today one can go throughout the British West Indies and find American business methods and American office appliances displacing the long-established European system of doing business."

A UNION OF BROTHERS

THE project of uniting all the brotherhoods of the various churches of the city in a federated council, where their efforts to improve conditions may be unified and concentrated, is apparently about to be crowned with success. On January 3, next, all preliminaries meantime having been completed, the various brotherhoods will meet together for the first time at a banquet at the First Methodist church.

The movement should have behind it the strong and vigorous support of every man in Colorado Springs who really wishes to bring about the kingdom of heaven who is sincerely desirous that the church take that position of leadership in the settlement of social and moral questions which it certainly will take if the men of the church unitedly set out to do the work that was left to them by Jesus Christ.

This work is too big for the men of the church, if they fight in denominational groups, each under a different leader, without concerted action. Just as men representing every denomination have come together in the federal council of churches to carry out a program of social betterment in the nation, so the Christian men of every city, of every town, should unite. Against such a united army nothing could prevail.

It is sincerely to be hoped, therefore, that at the first meeting of the federated brotherhoods a week from Friday night there shall be such an attendance as will guarantee the success of the new movement from the very first.

TO REFORM THE EXCHANGE

ACCORDING to a dispatch from the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Tribune, the recent disclosure of conditions in the stock exchange has been so startling as to guarantee the recommendation by the Pujo committee of the passage of legislation designed to correct the gambling evils that have been shown. The committee will advise:

Government supervision of stock exchanges under authority of the interstate commerce clause of the constitution.
Compulsory incorporation of stock exchanges.
Compulsory publicity of promoters' profits on stock exchange issues listed on the New York stock exchange.
Abolition or curtailment of manipulation of the stock market.
Prevention of the flow of money to Wall street during periods of stringency in the money market.

Authority for the national and state banking authorities to review the judgment of the clearing house where a member declines to clear for a nonmember bank.
Admission to full membership in the clearing house of any bank that is absolutely solvent and whose condition is approved by the national or state banking authorities.

Probably these measures will relieve existing evils. If not, then it is certain an effort will be made entirely to abolish the stock exchange. For the people have become convinced that the money that is won and lost in these great Wall-street gambles comes directly from the pockets of the people themselves. And they don't propose longer to pay the bills.

PROPOSED MINING LEGISLATION

LEGISLATION asked by the committee of mining men appointed by Governor-elect Ammons to suggest legislation needed to put new life into the mining industry in Colorado is so sane and well-considered that there should be no difficulty in getting the necessary bills through the legislature. Most of the laws recommended are such as to meet the entire approbation of the public generally. Among the bills asked are the following:

Measures should be taken to compel the forest service to restrict its energies to the preservation of the forests and to cease from interfering with outside matters.
A "Parade blue sky law" should be passed to prevent unscrupulous promoters from discrediting the mining industry and "gold-bricking" the public.

A law should be passed making it a misdemeanor for any mill, smelter, or ore washer to mix, dilute, or in any way disguise or destroy the identity of a lot of ore before its value has been definitely ascertained upon between buyer and seller.

The present mechanics lien law should be amended so that it will be safe for the mine owner to lease his property to working miners and at the same time protect the merchant and miner. The Colorado code of appeals recently held that a mine owner is liable for all debts contracted by lessees.

A law should be enacted which will bring about a reasonable, just and uniform system of mine taxation throughout the state.

A drainage district law should be passed whereby all miners benefited by common drainage will be compelled to contribute their share of the costs.

A law should be enacted to extend the principle of eminent domain to aerial trams, electric lines, and pipe lines.

Just how the legislature of Colorado can "compel" the forest service does not clearly appear. Doubtless, however, that suggestion was put in out of deference to Mr. Ammons' intense hostility to the federal conservation policy. If the legislature, instead of seeking to "compel," will work in harmony with the department of the interior, it will doubtless secure from the forest service all the concessions needed for legitimate mining industry.

As to the other suggestions, they should all meet with the hearty support of members of the legislature, regardless of party. No law is more badly needed in this state, for instance, than a "blue sky law," and it is not to mining alone that its provisions should apply.

AN INJURY TO THE STATE

IF PRESENT state laws permit a county assessor to take hundreds of thousands of dollars of revenue from the state by means of an arbitrary reduction of his county's assessment, then the laws of the state need changing. The importance of this question has just been brought up by the decision of Assessor Pitcher of Denver to reduce by 10 per cent the assessment of property in that county.

That will mean a loss in revenue of 10 per cent to the county of Denver, and to the state from the county of Denver. Maybe the county of Denver can stand the loss of revenue, but the state can't. Moreover, the assessor's action is an injustice to every other county in the state, since they will all have to carry a higher proportion of the state's revenues than Denver county.

There ought to be some means for enforcing an equal assessment basis in every county in the state. Only in such a way can the burden of state taxes be justly distributed. If the action of Denver's assessor is allowed to stand, it means that assessors in every other county will follow his example and it is dismal to think of what will happen to the state's finances.

A BOON TO THE FARMER

IT IS not likely that the project for farm mortgage bonds, as outlined in the recent governor's conference, and as urged by President Taft, will greatly reduce the cost of foodstuffs. But it is certainly due to the farmers that they be given the opportunity to secure loans at a rate of interest proportioned to the high class security they offer.

The mortgage bond plan is in use in Europe, with the result that farmers secure money at as low a rate as business men. When the plan is put into effect in this country there would seem to be no reason why farmers should not be able to secure money for 4 and 5 per cent. Nothing will so greatly aid the "back to the land" movement as cheap money.

DEVELOP FARMING DISTRICTS.

To the Editor of The Gazette:
Very few of our citizens are aware of the wealth and prosperity that lies at our very doors in our agricultural districts, which, by practical, economical and systematic work, can be made a permanent asset to our city and a great help to our eastern farmers.

It only needs practical men and cooperation, and the financial assistance of the whole community. Eastern Colorado needs systematized roads, to place the farmer in better communication with Colorado Springs, to avoid the great loss of time caused by bad roads and to reduce the excessive cost of roads. Our country has paid enough money for road work in eastern El Paso county to have good roads throughout our eastern farming districts. But, because of the lack of a proper system, we have no roads, although our tax money has been spent. We need a new system to obtain good roads to and from the farm in order that the farmer can be in closer communication with the business men of Colorado Springs. This would prove more profitable than a 60-day tourist season, as the farmers are with us 365 days in the year—the tourists only 60. The tourists will not make permanent prosperity for our city—the farmer will.

Speaking of the real farming industry of eastern El Paso county, I will say that if the farmers of the eastern part of our county and the business men would cooperate in the raising of alfalfa and other feed, for milk stock, dairy and poultry, work the farms on a system, and market their products on a system, the farmer would have more money and less work, and the merchants of Colorado Springs could sell more goods. At present our cream, our eggs, our poultry, our meat, have to be shipped from other quarters and the money is sent out of the county and out of the state. Why? Because the farmers and the merchants do not cooperate. We need a system whereby the farmer can be educated to get the best results from his farm, and a better market system, whereby he can get a good price for his products, so that he will have cash to buy goods from the merchants. The farmer is the backbone of the country and should be assisted first, last and all the time. Educate those who do not know economical farming; teach them a system which makes profit certain. We not only want to make the farmer and the business man prosperous, but we want to give other workers a chance to earn money, so as to enable every citizen in our town to buy and to live.

F. HERMANN.

Colorado Springs, Dec. 25.

GOOD FOOD FOR 85 CENTS A WEEK.

Persons interested in the cost of living problem—and that means practically everybody—should study the statements just made by Raymond T. Sanford, a freshman in the Cornell College of Agriculture, who is now making a personal experiment in the actual cost of sufficient food to keep his body in a normal healthy condition. Starting last July on entering the summer school, he has kept an exact account of his food expenditures and at the latest reckoning found that they have averaged 85 cents a week, thus beating a Harvard undergraduate who a couple of years ago was proclaimed as working his way through the university at a weekly expenditure of $1 for food. After some experimenting young Sanford has adopted the following diet: Skimmed milk at 2 cents a quart; buttermilk, 3 cents a quart; stale bread, 3 cents a loaf; peanut butter, 10 pounds for $1.50; raisins, 3 pounds for 25 cents; lentils, 10 cents a pound; raw cabbage, onions, peppers, rice, oatmeal, with apples foraged from the agricultural farm. It is reported that he is strong and healthy and that he is gaining in weight. During October, when he experimented more or less with his diet, the cost varying from 80 cents to $1, he gained 12 pounds. It is evident from this young man's experiences that the food problem is, after all, not so much a matter of cost as of taste. In its solution much depends upon the individual decision between eating to live and living to eat.

REAL WORK FOR SCHOOL CHILDREN.

The Philadelphia Inquirer. The inquiry fully agrees with the National Society for the Promotion of Industrial Education, which has just completed its sixth annual session in this city, that it is essential to give boys and girls larger and more thorough training in the practical things of life. It would like to see every boy trained to be a mechanic, whether he ever expects to handle tools for a living or not; it would like to see every girl trained to cook and sew and know thoroughly domestic economy, whether she may be called upon to exercise these functions or not.

The grounds on which these considerations are urged are twofold: Those of practical utility in ordinary occupations and those of supervision. No boy can ever expect to know much of the practical things of life without experience. There is no man who is not benefited by coordinating his head and his hands. Many boys will be benefited by learning the elements of a trade even if it be because professional men. Every girl ought to know how to conduct a household.

But we must insist that this sort of education should be thorough and not academic, that it be made useful and not ornamental, that it be not a fill of education, but a substantive part of it. A few generations ago most boys of 14 were bound out as apprentices and served until 21, when they were able to make a good living, and in many cases to acquire a competence. Nowadays the mechanic is apt to be untrained and ill-equipped for getting ahead in the world. We forbear to speak of the ill-preparedness of our girls for conducting a home. Until girls can do for more in their own sphere than now, until they more nearly approach the accomplishments and achievements of their grandmothers, the vote question ought to sink into the background.

But above all things let mechanical training, domestic science and academic teaching be made thorough, let it be accompanied by the necessity of hard work and let us have a new generation of those "thoroughly furnished to all good works," as the Apostle says, and not a lot of slipshod young men and women who can do little and who think that they are fit for anything. Inefficiency is the crime of this generation.

Sympathy Selfishness

By RUTH CAMERON.

"Well, I just do enjoy having that woman come here, because I can pour out all my woes to her and she is always ready to sympathize with me." I heard a woman say the other day, of one of her friends.

And I wondered as I listened whether that friend could say in return, "I just love to visit that woman!"

I doubt it. She was evidently good enough to permit this wholesale raid on her sympathies. But that does not mean that she enjoyed it. No one could. And the people who thus abuse other folks' willingness to sympathize with them are just as foolish and thoughtless as those who ride any other kind of a free horse to death.

One of the most common kinds of egotism is sympathy selfishness. In the eyes of people who have this fault a good friend's best use is as a safety valve for their troubles.

Some husbands and more wives, look upon their partners in this way, and look forward to the meeting after the day's work is done as an opportunity for "pouring out all their troubles and annoyances which they have had since they wrote last." Somehow it relieves my mind and makes me feel less unhappy to write out my troubles. I heard one of the victims of this habit say: "For some people let me suggest what Abraham Lincoln said to Stanton when the latter was about to post a very sharp and pointed letter to Stanton. The president had shown the letter to him and approved it, but when Stanton prepared to mail it he appeared surprised. 'What? You aren't going to send it,' he said—I quote the spirit rather than the letter—'don't do that, man. You've written it out and relieved your mind; it's served its purpose. Now throw it in the wastebasket!'"

Sympathy is a form of vitality. Those who demand an unreasonable share of sympathy are stealing their friends' vitality. Anyone who has ever had anything to do with a nervous invalid, especially one who is subject to depression and needs constant cheering up, knows what a tremendous drain that is. In a lesser degree, the person who is sympathy selfish, drains his friends.

Do not think I am saying that one should never ask sympathy from one's friends. On the contrary, sympathy is the very breath and life of friendship. Friendship without sympathy is a body without a soul. But all the more because it is such a precious and wonderful thing one should not try to make it too common. An overtaxed sympathy is sure to become enfeebled. It is not better to be careful not to abuse this precious privilege so that we may be sure of deep and strong sympathy when we really need it.

FIRE ESCAPES

By GEORGE FITCH,
Author of "At Good Old Siwash"

There are three kinds of fire escapes: the Bible, ladders and industrial.

It takes all one's life to escape from fire by means of the Bible. By means of industry one may escape for many years only to be fired when old and infirm. But by means of the patent fire escape which is fastened on the outside of the hotel and is connected with the interior by locked doors designated by red lights which aren't burning one may sometimes escape in less than a minute.

The common or roof-garden fire escape is made of iron steps or ladders with platforms at each floor. These ladders are connected with the earth by about eight feet of atmosphere through which the escapee must jump. In case of fire on the nineteenth floor the fire escape affords a safe and exhilarating pastime.

"The common or roof-garden fire escape."

Those who have tried tripping merrily down a ladder 300 feet above ground holding on with one hand and dressing hastily with the other, have recommended the sport as much preferable to parachute jumping.

In great cities all tenements are fitted with fire escapes which are so much more comfortable than the tenements themselves that people sleep on them during the summer. All of the great hotels of the country are also fitted with fire escapes. These also act as bill escapes on many occasions and much of the profits of hotel keeping go down the escapes with guests who cannot bear to bid the clerk a $2.50 good-by in the morning.

Fire escapes do no save many lives because they are always somewhere else when the fire breaks out. But they are a great comfort to the timid woman who couldn't climb down a set of cellar stairs in five minutes and as soon as she finds that she is connected with the earth by 175 feet of misty ladders with the cold north wind singing through them she feels as safe in her hotel bed as if she was at home.

After gazing upon several thousands of rickety old wooden buildings throughout America, all fitted with fire escapes, we have concluded that these inventions are doing a nefarious work by assisting the buildings themselves to escape from fire and thus aggravating the cause of architecture and the cities beautiful. What most of America's buildings need is not fire escapes, but a torch.

IF THIS IS YOUR BIRTHDAY

Some time devoted to the study of modern medicine or keeping well will be of great benefit to you and to those dear to you. A journey or change is indicated, which will not entirely please you, and other annoyances are in store for you.

Those born today will be of high intelligence, but inclined to become too enthusiastic on subjects which interest them, and to seek their own interests in the furtherance of some cause. Education alone, unprejudiced, will save many of these children from wasting their lives on useless sects and causes.

WHY WOMEN LIVE LONGER

From the London Mail.
Through doctors' lives long realized that, thanks to a better knowledge of sanitation and personal hygiene, women are living longer than formerly. The much greater relative longevity of women, as shown in the recently published national debt office's report on the mortality of government life annuitants, has come as a general surprise.

In a summary of these figures it was shown that the expectation of life of a woman of 50 is now more than a year greater than it was in 1881, while that of a man of the same age is only about three months greater.
Discussing the reasons of our increasing longevity, and in particular women's stronger hold on life, physicians at St. Bartholomew's hospital advanced widely different theories. "The essential cause of death," one stated, "is a wearing out from overwork of the brain cells. Women may be just as brainy as men, but they do not work their brain cells as vigorously or as continuously as do their men relatives. If they did there would not be so great a disparity in the length of life of the two sexes."

Another consultant put down women's greater expectation of life to the more sheltered existence she leads, and the lack of the physically depressing strain which is part of nearly every man's life. "A woman may have hard work to do," he explained, "but, except for the few who work in offices or who follow professions, they work in their own homes, and at a pace they set for themselves. The home is also a more vasty more airy, sunny, and generally more wholesome than is her husband's shop or office."

The Opera house gave a concert at the Choral union that was one of the most elaborate ever attempted by local talent. It was most successful. The affair was given under the direction of Minlay Philason. This was his last appearance as he was leaving town to the regret of the musical people here. He was said to be at one time a vocalist, composer of music, and a writer of orchestral music, and a conductor of a chorus and orchestra.

Will Burr, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was recovering from quite a serious illness.

THE HASKIN LETTER

IMMIGRATION

XVII.—IMMIGRANTS AND CRIME.

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

The American people have heard so much about the criminal tendencies of the "new" immigration that they have come generally to accept as gospel truth the oft-repeated statement that the aliens coming to America are distinguished for their criminal tendencies. And yet every investigation that has been made points to the conclusion that there is no difference between the immigrant and the native American in this regard it is in favor of the foreigner rather than against him.

The statistics do indicate, however, that the American-born children of immigrants show a greater tendency to crime than do the children of native parents. It also appears that juvenile delinquency is greater among the children of immigrants than among those of native parents. The immigration commission concludes from its investigation that upon the whole the question as to whether or not immigration increases crime, there is not sufficient evidence upon which to predicate a conclusion. On the other hand, it has found enough evidence to justify the assertion that immigration does change the character of crime in this country, and says that to measure this change was the chief aim of the investigation of crime records.

A marked increase in the number of crimes of personal violence, such as abduction, kidnapping, assault, homicide and rape, is noted, and the number of cases of disorderly conduct, drunkenness, vagrancy and like offenses has increased largely as a result of the presence of the immigrant. The same is true of offenses against chastity, and also of the prevalence of blackmail, extortion and the receiving of stolen property. On the other hand, in the majority of the faithful records the native American has a worse record than the immigrant.

Natives Less Retraactable.

Some of these changes in the nature of American crime are traceable largely to certain nationalities of immigrants. For instance, the commission concludes that the increase in the number of offenses of personal violence in this country is due to the immigration from southern Europe in general, and from Italy in particular. The Irish and Scotch are notable for their penal records for intoxication, the Italian for his number of attempted homicides, and the Greeks and Russians for their contempt of public ordinances in the big cities.

But a much larger proportion of the offenses committed by native Americans are of a serious nature than those committed by the immigrants. For instance, the census inquiry shows that seven out of every ten crimes committed by native Americans are serious, "major" offenses, while less than one out of ten committed by immigrants belonged to that category.
Perhaps the most interesting tendency disclosed by the investigation is the inclination of the children of foreigners to "cease to commit" the crimes which characterize their parents and to commit the kind of crimes which characterize the native American population, showing that they imitate Americans with a vengeance. In the records of the court of general sessions of New York it was found that whereas the percentage of faithful offenses committed by Irish immigrants was only 60.8 per cent, the second generation was 78 per cent, and the native Americans 78.7 per cent. On the other hand, the children of Irish immigrants committed less than half as many offenses of personal violence as did their fathers.

13,000 Alien Prisoners.

There are some 13,000 alien prisoners in the penal institutions of the United States. Assuming that it costs only $200 a year to maintain each of them, the country must spend over two and a half million dollars annually to keep them. One-fourth of their crimes were committed within three years after their arrival in the United States. It is interesting to note the tendency of certain nationalities to commit certain forms of crime. Half of the crimes of this class were committed by only one-sixteenth of the Jewish

Many Immigrants Criminals.

It was found that there are many Italian criminals in the United States who served out sentences before coming many others who were tried and convicted in their absence, and are fugitives from justice; many who were acquitted, but against whom there was strong evidence, and still others who never have been tried for any crime, but whose reputations at home were notorious. The law shuts out only the one class—those who have been tried and convicted before their arrival in the United States. There have been many cases where a criminal after his landing in the United States, but the courts have held that the law does not require the deportation of such persons. Furthermore, no matter how clear the evidence that a criminal got into the United States in defiance of the immigration laws, the courts have held that if he has been here three

XVII--IMMIGRANTS AND CRIME
By Frederic J. Haskin.

have very little ground upon which to work in trying to prevent the entrance of criminals. Unless there are peculiar circumstances, the criminal is usually shrewd enough to hide any indications of his criminality, and so he comes in.

Gen. Theodore A. Bingham said, when he was police commissioner of New York, that he believed there were fully 3,000 desperadoes from southern Italy alone in that city, and that among them there were some as ferocious and desperate as ever gathered in a modern city in time of peace--medieval criminals who must be dealt with under modern law.

FIRE DRILLS FOR HORSES

From the Boston Evening Transcript.
No precaution which may aid in saving life and property in case of fire is too simple or too silly to be neglected. Especially is this true in country communities, where houses are scattered and fire departments are an unknown quantity. Sufficient hose, fire extinguishers, ladders and axes for the number and size of the buildings owned should be found on all well-regulated farms. While these preparations are commendable, yet one of the most important safety devices is usually overlooked--the fire drill.

Animals are creatures of habit, but some are more addicted to it than others. The current superstition that horses are panic-stricken in a fire and will not leave their stalls is only partly true, writes Louise R. Bascom in Farm and Home. Of course, they are frightened just as people are, but both animals and people can be managed by a cool head at such a moment. The average horse is not taken out after dark. Therefore, the suggestion is to alter custom by occasionally leading him into the open when he is not expecting it. This practice will not only be of advantage in case of fire, but also in other emergencies as well.

For example, the writer had occasion last year to go for the doctor about midnight. Hastening to the barn, she threw back the door of a box stall and tried to bridle a pacer who is in the habit of taking the bit docilely. Imagine her indignation when the horse began snorting and whinnying with every appearance of alarm and inquietude. After a great loss of time he was finally caught and persuaded into the yard. It was so obvious that the horse was neither accustomed to having anybody in the stable after feeding time nor to midnight rides that the night drills suggested themselves as a necessity.

At first both horses and cows were slow about responding to the midnight calls, but when they discovered that they were visited after dark meant a nibble of grass in the paddock, a bit of salt or a sugar lump, they took to the discipline with considerable zeal. Of course, in spite of this training, it may be necessary to blindfold a horse's eyes and whip him on the forelegs in order to get him out of a burning stall, but the chances are that if he is in the habit of going out with his master into the night his custom and confidence will overcome his panic.

SWALLOWS DEADLY TO BEES
From the Selborne Magazine.
Possibly some of your readers may not be aware that swallows are very destructive to bees, writes a correspondent from Sarny Pas de Calais. This year we have, in the north of France, had an abundance of swallows. They have always taken very kindly to a good meal, but this year they have been very kind to the bees. They have been seen to enter the hives and carry off the bees. The swallows feed their young upon the bees, and are especially mischievous in binding the swarms, but do not seem to eat them themselves, for distinctly the young ones are fedged they are seen to enter the hives and carry off the bees. It is a pity that the bees are so much persecuted by the swallows, but this year my wife and the gardener noticed them catching the bees as they returned honey laden to their hives, and carrying them off to their young ones in the conservatory.

So we began to destroy the nests, and brought upon ourselves enemies from both sides. The swallows fought desperately for their rights, and when the doors were at last closed against them, they brought upon ourselves enemies from both sides. The swallows fought desperately for their rights, and when the doors were at last closed against them, they brought upon ourselves enemies from both sides. The swallows fought desperately for their rights, and when the doors were at last closed against them, they brought upon ourselves enemies from both sides.

and now attribute this to the swallows; whether we shall do better this year after the measures we have taken remains to be seen.

GOLF THAT IS MOSTLY BALL HUNTING
From the London Globe.
There are two sorts of golf. One is where you do not hunt for the ball. Those who play the other sort are never found in the championship records. They traverse the links with amateur saddles or with no saddles at all. They rally out in twos, threes or fours and play all against all. They expect to spend most of the time in ball hunting, which they have reduced to a science. They spread out in a line and walk the suspected area, each rallying to the other's need. Only when the ball is found does the game continue, and the players are likely to find blue holes before lunch.
